

A photo of an octopus splayed out in a Miami Beach parking garage after the latest King Tide captivated the internet, but a University of Miami associate biology professor said residents should get used to seeing sea creatures in traditionally dry spaces. - Richard Conlin / Facebook